Very simply put: Praise and Worship begins and ends with God.

God promised He would "inhabit the praises" of His people, so when we worship and praise Him, we invite Him to join us. When we celebrate His wonder, when we choose to show our adoration and love, we give back to Him a small measure of the love He has shown to us.

We believe that all things should be done decently and in order, including Worship and Praise. Creative expressions of music, writing, dancing, singing, speaking, clapping, giving, waving, and other signs of praise and worship are all recorded in the Bible.

Praising God is an expression of celebration declaring that God is a Holy Awesome God, and praise shows our honor to Him. When we give an outward sign of our desire to declare that honor, we praise God.

Worshiping God is also an expression like praise. In similar outlets as praise, worship is a way to show we place worth on a relationship with the Almighty.

At Promise, we incorporate Praise and Worship in our regular services. Each part of our services is designed to show and grow our relationship with our Heavenly Father.
